

DONATE TO EDUCATE CAMPAIGN

As the crisis in Lebanon lingers on, a real tragedy weighs on the country and its institutions. The political, financial, and moral crises, the Beirut Port explosion, the lockdowns imposed by the Covid-19 pandemic, have all had a dire social toll on Lebanese citizens.

Saint Joseph University of Beirut, established in 1875, one of the first private and non-profit universities in the Arab world, stands in the very heart of this disaster. Despite Lebanon's turbulent and troubled past, such crises were never known. They are a threat to high-quality education and above all to the people of Lebanon, to our students, and to our staff.

We have resumed the academic year under very challenging circumstances (brain drain, inflation, increased operating and maintenance expenses linked to dollar rate, etc.). To help our students, we have set the dollar rate for tuition fees at LBP 2,700 (while the black-market rate is at LBP 22,000).

However, this has greatly limited our income which has decreased from 102 million dollars in 2019-2020 to about 12 million today. Even adopting an austerity policy and reducing our operational costs by 60% were not enough. The University will show a deficit of 6.5 million dollars by end of year. Moreover, our foreign currency assets are stuck in Lebanese banks; we cannot access them, and their fate seems quite bleak. We are all alone in this plight.

In 2020, we have launched the "Donate to Educate" fundraising campaign to secure financial aid to our students and invest in educational equipment and tools. In the next 5 years, we will have to upgrade more than 2,400 computers and engage in a full-scale digitization process. We will also have to launch research projects, participate in international programs, and renew the equipment of the nearly 50 laboratories of the University.

We turn to you to lend us a helping hand.

Today, your support is urgently needed so that the vision of a sovereign and independent Lebanon can thrive and prevail in its second centenary, and so that loyalty to Lebanon, our homeland, can remain intact. Your help is an act of resistance to make sure that the University's civic duty is not suppressed, and that the University remains able to fulfil its mission of educating the leaders of tomorrow.

Consider your support as an investment in education for human advancement and capacity building and an investment in the youth, and as an act of salvation for what is our most precious asset in Lebanon: education.
