

The Arab World and the West : A Personal Encounter

Conférence de Hicham NASHABE à l'USJ- Centre Walid Ben Talal

Le 19 mai 2009

Professor Hicham NASHABE will give a public lecture on Thursday, May 19, 2009 until the title “The Arab World and the West: A personal Encounter.”

Having been brought up in a traditional Arab-Muslim family and later as a student in missionary schools, both catholic and protestant, and having had the experience of studying in the French and Anglo-Saxon scholarly tradition, Professor NASHABE shares in this lecture his experience and analyses the influence of the West on the Arab World from his personal perspective. Though typical in many respects, the living experience described and analyzed in this lecture, contributes to the study of the dialogue between the Arab World and the West and to the image of the West in Arab eyes.
