

Program
October 25
9:00am	Fadlo Khuri - President, American University of Beirut  Salim Daccache - Rector, Saint Joseph University  Claude Doumet-Serhal - President, Michel Chiha Foundation	Introductory Remarks
9:30am	Amin Elias - Assistant Professor of History, Philosophy, and Politics, Lebanese University	Construction of Lebanese identity: between mythology and the modern nation
10:00am	Nadim Shehadi - Economist and Political Adviser	Michel Chiha's Lebanon after 100 years
10:30am	Joanna Doummar - Associate Professor of Earth Sciences, American University of Beirut	A Land of Karst and Groundwater
Coffee Break
11:30am	Annie Tohme Tabet - Professor of Sociology and Anthropology, Saint Joseph University  Younna Makhoul - Lecturer in Law, Saint Joseph University	Lebanese Identity 100 Years after the Creation of Greater Lebanon
12:30am	Makram Rabah - Assistant Professor of History, American University of Beirut	Looking for the Lebanese Identity in all the Wrong Places
Lunch
2:30pm	Lina Choueiri - Deputy Provost and Professor of Linguistics, American University of Beirut	Unpacking (mis-)conceptions about language and identity
3:00pm	Marc Haber - Associate Professor in Health Data Science, University of Birmingham	Unraveling the Genetic Identity of the Lebanese Population through Ancient DNA Analysis
3:30pm	Rui Martiniano - Senior Lecturer in Human Evolutionary Genetics, Liverpool John Moores University	First Glimpse into the Genetic Composition of Ancient Arabians and Local Adaptation Against Malaria
4:00pm	Mohamed Almarri - Assistant Professor of Genetics, Mohammed Bin Rashid University of Medicine	Contrasting Levantine and Arabian population histories using modern and ancient genomes
Coffee Break
5:00pm	Joseph Maïla - Professor of International Relations and Geopolitics, European Business School (ESSEC) France, Former Rector of the Catholic University of Paris	Closing Remarks
Cocktail		